Title & Closing Workflow Solutions

Order Management: Security and Efficiency. Delivered.

What our solution offers

The Title and Closing Workflow Solutions syncs order management, secures vendor communication and document transfer, and ultimately enhances consumer experience in home ownership.

The CoreLogic Title and Closing Workflow Solutions supports retail origination, home equity, default servicing, and wholesale lending channels.

Our expanding vendor network encompasses many of the most prominent names in the industry, allowing lenders to assign orders, at a regional and national level, directly to title companies, escrow agents, attorneys, and settlement providers.

Energize your settlement services with:

- More Automation
- Streamlined workflow
- A Better Borrower Experience

Secure online platform

Order Management is a secure, web-based work site from which users can receive orders, send completed title documents, and communicate with their clients. It is an integrated component of the CoreLogic valuation platforms, used by many lenders.

With Order Management, title/escrow service providers can communicate with the nation's largest lenders and their vendors simply and securely. Title/escrow professionals can receive orders from CoreLogic-supported lenders, exchange messages concerning specific orders, and return completed work—all in a secure, closed environment.

Order Management replaces phone calls, faxes, and email, and provides a secure, organized platform to track and transmit all orders and completed title/escrow products. If you haven't tried Order Management yet, you're missing out.

What is the difference between using a Title and Closing Workflow Solutions and e-mail?

Security and integration. Transferring title documents by e-mail sends files across an unsecured platform to the recipient's inbox—a major security hazard. Since Order Management is a component of an integrated collateral management system, your completed work travels directly from your computer to your client via Order Management and can only be accessed by users within the client's management system who have permission to view the information.
